

It's About the Conversation!

“Kevin and I have been married for 26 years. During our facilitated conversation we learned important things about one another---things we’ve never discussed. The conversation is an incredible gift because now we can truly honor each other’s priorities. Have the conversation.”

What if a sudden illness or injury left you unable to speak for yourself?

Who would you want to speak for you?

What would you want them to know about your values and wishes?

Honoring Choices® Idaho has trained facilitators who can help guide a thought-provoking conversation to help make your wishes known to your family members and loved ones— especially the person you want to speak for you if you can’t. Learn vocabulary, reflect on your values, choose a health care agent, explore goals for treatment, and take the first steps toward completing an advance directive.

An advance care planning conversation helps you:

- Think about your health care values and goals
- Consider health care choices you may have to make in the future
- Talk about your choices with your doctor and your loved ones
- Make a written plan for the future (advance directive)
